THE SCRAPBOOK EDITION

of the

CRIMSON
1942

GOSHEN HIGH SCHOOL

Goshen, Indiana

EXPLANATION OF THEME

SCRAPBOOKS hold something dear in everyone's memories. We have all, at one time or another, treasured some little mementoes which we shall never forget, be they large or small, significant or otherwise. We, of the Crimson staff, believe there are no memories more dear to young and old than those connected with high school days. This is our motive for presenting the year-book for the Class of '42 in scrapbook form.

Although we are publishing a Crimson this year, we are not unpatriotic, as it may seem. Paper is precious and so is copper used for engraving, but we were most fortunate in securing our contracts for all these services before the present national emergency.

VICTORY SONG

Here they come, on the run,
Fighting to the final gun,
It's the Redskins a-rambling along,
Dribble down, take a shot,
Come on team, and let's get hot,
It's the Redskins a-rambling along.
Then it's fight, fight, fight,
For the Crimson and the White,
To keep up our Goshen High's fair name,
When the contest's won,
We'll sing our victory song
For the Redskins who rambled along.

Tom-tom, tom-tom, tom-tom, tom-tom eeow
Tom-tom, tom-tom, tom-tom, tom-tom eeow
Yeah Redskins! . . . Yeah Redskins!
Fight! Come on, you Redskins, fight!

THOUGHTS WHILE IN "37"

This is going to be a perfect March day. Sunny, crisp and altogether too nice to have to enjoy only in snatches at noon or in glimpses out the window.

Poor teacher keeps ambling round and round trying to find out who threw that paper wad at the light. I wish one of those lights would fall—just once!!

Oh yes, I must whip down and get a picture of the basketball team. Twenty-five cents gone up the spout—just to gaze at all that manly beauty (?)!!

I really and truly do wish the next period was over. I like chemistry and all that, but when it comes to doing everything myself and having my partner take credit for it, I get disgusted! I never saw such a helpless male in all my life. (Egad, do you suppose they are all like that? Perish the thought.)

I wonder if the males around this place ever really notice new hair does and new clothes? I know one who didn't!! Maybe men aren't all they're cracked up to be. I have a sneaking suspicion they aren't—Oh, well—.

What will I wear on Friday nite? That is a burning question. If I wear my blue outfit tomorrow I can't repeat it so soon—and yet I don't want to wear that plaid skirt to school again for a week. It's too hard on the teachers' eyes—but then again the poor people get little enjoyment out of school—why not give them a shock now and then????

Being on the costume committee is lots of fun. Flying around town after stuff. 'Course it's expensive—it means two cokes a day instead of one. Which reminds me—we must dash in and get that uniform and the hostess gown. Better write it down—can't leave that to my poor brain!! Too much happens between now and then!!

Should be getting my health report. If I can wangle it I'll buzz down for my book in a minute. We always get a good chuckle out of the expressions on the faces of people who have to come into health class.

Since this is the sixth week of this six-weeks period, I have an inkling that there are going to be tests. Now what makes me think that? Oh, yes—seems I dimly heard it mentioned in three or four classes. Hmm!! Must be more than a rumor, at that.

Fifteen minutes 'til the end of the period and there are at least 12 people in here fast asleep. They really should install bunks in all the study halls. It's too much of a strain to keep awake so early in the A. M.

ANONYMOUS.

BAND

Row 1: C. Sump, J. Tritch, M. Vorhees, M. Williams, B. Wilson, M. Spidel, N. McLean, C. Hollinger, C. Atz, E. Naylor, A. Anderson, D. Berry, Mr. Brinklow. Row 2: N. Miller, A. Howell, E. Naylor, L. Hartzler, B. Steininger, M. J. McCumsey, I. Ruge, P. Priestley, D. Schwalm, D. Pickering. Row 3: S. Moyer, A. Toops, R. Brinklow, D. Edsall, M. H. Pease, G. Weaver, B. Miller, J. Peffley, B. Lacey, P. Ramsby, B. Strycker, B. Atz, D. Bryner. Row 4: H. Blosser, D. Foust, B. Hippensteel, B. Waffle, W. Niccum, B. Cripe, H. Weaver, W. Larrabee, D. Miller, D. Stage, P. Haney, S. Ridenour, J. Loucks. Row 5: P. Hertzler, C. Kentner, R. Hart, J. Oyer, D. Evans, P. Amos, M. McCally, B. Rippey, I. Weaver, P. Payne, L. Byers.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, consisting of sixty-four members, under the capable directors, Mr. Brinklow and Miss Brittan, has made many appearances during the year. It provided musical interludes for the Junior and Senior class plays, took part in the annual Christmas program given on the evening of December 9th, and appeared in the music department's annual spring concert. It took part in both the district and state music contests. The orchestra closed the year by presenting short concerts at the Baccalaureate services, Class Day exercises, and graduation.

The Auto Mechanics class had nineteen students this year. Each was very anxious to learn the fundamentals of mechanics, so that he might secure a good position as a mechanic and be of real service to his country during this national emergency.

CAMERA CLUB

Row 1: B. Penrose, R. Smoker, K. Clark, D. Gunden, H. Stark, Mr. Shanklin. Row 2: S. Cripe, J. McCumsey, B. Rippey, B. Cripe, B. Logan, A. Mitchell, J. Hower. Row 3: R. Haberstich, D. Cole, W. Niccum.

This year the boys of the Camera Club have been instructed in the more complicated methods and techniques of the camera, developing and printing, enlarging, and composition. A series of lectures furnished by the Eastman Kodak Company has been very helpful in this manner. The spring exhibit gave the members a chance to mount and show some of their finer prints. A thirty volume library, covering practically every phase of amateur photography, was one of the projects accomplished this year. The club again furnished many of the informal snapshots for the Crimson.

The aim of the Chemistry Club is to promote a higher understanding of chemistry and to acquaint the members of the club with the chemical changes taking place in everyday life. Any high school student who has taken chemistry may be a member of the club. This year the club enjoyed many interesting meetings, consisting of talks by outside speakers and experiments.

The Girls Glee Club and the Choir, both under the direction of Mr. Brinklow, have been active during the year. The Glee Club presented a program for the Music Parents Club and one at the Chandler school. They also took part in the annual spring concert and graduation exercises. The Choir presented its annual Christmas program before the student body, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club. In the spring it took part in the annual band and orchestra concert, and also sang a few numbers at the Baccalaureate service.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Row 1: D. Cole, J. Latta, D. Berry, Mrs. Smith. Row 2: P. Bowser, F. Beckner, E. Hershberger, N. Latta, H. McDougall.

The Junior Classical League, whose purpose is to foster interest in the classical studies among the youth of the nation, has this year in its membership eight students from the Goshen High School.

Each Wednesday noon, assembling around the same table, we eat together and discuss any matters of business that are before us. Because there were no officers chosen, each person has willingly cooperated in the functions of this league, especially in planning for the annual Roman Banquet and Saturnalia.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Row 1: P. Zentz, Miss Brooks, L. Duzy, G. Stealy, A. Everett, P. Amos, E. M. Myers. Row 2: G. Burke, R. Madlem, N. De Vault, D. Zellers, M. Wortinger, E. Naylor, M. Burkett, R. Fidler, R. Brinklow. Row 3: P. Shive, P. Risdon, L. Boggs, L. Trump, R. Rieth, M. Williams, N. Miller, D. Bryner. Row 4: P. Ramsby, D. Fields, E. Stump, M. K. Stuck, R. Snook, R. Smoker, K. Wortinger, D. Whitmer.

The Commercial Club was organized in December with thirty-five charter members. Lillian Duzy was elected president; Adelaide Everett, vice-president; Peggy Amos, secretary; and George Stealy, treasurer. Miss Brooks is the sponsor.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint the members with the different phases of business and their part in the business world. The membership is open to any student in the Business Department.

Meetings were held on the first Monday of each month with Adelaide Everett in charge in January, Doris Bryner in February, Emma Mae Myers in March, George Stealy in April, and Roberta Madlem in May. Each meeting was divided into three parts: informational, recreational, and—EATS.

The biggest project undertaken by the club was the handling of the Defense Stamp sale each Tuesday. A corps of twenty club members conducted the sale each week which resulted in the purchase of several hundred dollars' worth of bonds and stamps by students and faculty.

FORUM CLUB

Row 1: B. Goodenough, D. Cole, B. Atz, B. Penrose, S. Moyer, Mr. Shanklin. Row 2: R. Brinklow, H. McDougall, C. Kendall, D. Shank, J. Erickson, Miss Beaman, J. Oyer. Row 3: E. Hershberger, L. Trump, J. Boggs.

The activities of the Forum Club center around public speaking, debate, and oratorical work. This year the club, consisting of fifteen members, financed a trip to Purdue for some of the debate students. The club presented several plays before the student body and in the spring sponsored an oratorical contest which was open to all the high school students.

Snook.

This year the Senior HI-Y, composed of junior and senior boys, was quite active in carrying out the following projects: good sportsmanship campaign, obtaining and decorating uniform concession baskets, the underwriting of glasses for school children, and the sponsoring of a contest to secure a design for a school flag.

The programs arranged by Program Chairman John Oyer were varied and interesting. The speakers included Rev. T. V. Dillon, Dr. H. Clair Amstutz, Clayton Hughes, and many other prominent businessmen.

Everyone enjoyed the social activities which included, a party held at the home of Rev. Dillon, a Sunshine-Hi-Y party, and the annual Father and Son Banquet. A representative was sent to the National Hi-Y Congress in Ohio, and the officers attended the State Officers' Convention. Thus we see the Hi-Y has done much to improve the school life and has had a swell time doing it.

The end of this school year marks the second anniversary for the Junior Hi-Y of Goshen High School. The organization had twenty-five active members, who, together with the senior club, undertook the project of acquiring a flag for the school. Along with the more serious programs the group enjoyed its swimming party and after school meetings.

The following officers served successfully throughout the year:

The Health Council consists of three girls from each class who act as the health officers of the school, in cooperation with the school nurse, Miss Nixon. This year the Health Council sponsored the Christmas seal sale, the tuberculosis tests, and a health poster contest. The girls also sold apples and ice cream bars after school. Members this year were as follows: seniors, Glendora Burke, Rose Rieth, and Peggy Amos; juniors, Phyllis Hartzler, Hari McDougall, and Margaret Williams; sophomores, Irma Bowser, Mary Louise Unzicker, and Carol Hollinger; freshmen, Vivian Pickering, Betty Lou Koerner, and Nancy McLean.

Under the capable leadership of its two sponsors, Miss Wright and Miss Peckinpaugh, the Home Economics Club has furthered itself even more this year. They joined the State Club and a new point system for membership was introduced and proved very effective. The motto, "Onward ever; backward never" was taken as a basis for this improvement.

A club party in February, the annual eighth grade tea, and a party for the mothers were among the social activities of the year.

The Journalism Club, now in its second year of existence in Goshen High School, is striding along under the guidance of its sponsor, Mr. Donald Blanding.

The members write of school activities. These write-ups appear weekly in the Goshen News-Democrat.

The club's work has served as a medium for self-expression, for originality, and the development of character.

Officers elected for the first time this year, were:

The purpose of the Scribblers Club is to provide an outlet for those students of the high school who are interested in literature. This year the meetings were held every first and third Thursday of the month at the home of the sponsor or one of the members. Manuscripts written by the members were read and criticized, in keeping with the goal of the club: "The improvement of the literary skill of all its members."

GOSHEN VS. WARSAW

The Goshen Red Menace opened a highly successful season by trouncing the Warsaw Tigers on the local field. Coach Kerr found it desirable to use many reserves to search out any unrecognized ability. Warsaw's lone score came in the waning seconds of play.

GOSHEN VS. JOHN ADAMS

Held in check during the first half by their own fumbling and the enemy's stiff defense, the Red Menace bounced back in the third quarter to defeat the stubborn Eagles. Don Whitmer carried the pigskin over on a lateral for the only touchdown of the game.

GOSHEN VS. MICHIGAN CITY

Scoring once in the first and twice in the third quarter, the Goshen Red Menace handily disposed of the Red Devils. Highlight of the game was Don Whitmer's 82-yard run back of a Devil punt. Myers starred defensively for Goshen.

GOSHEN VS. MISHAWAKA

0 13

Fate played a hand in the Redskins' first defeat of the year. A soggy field and a slippery ball dogged the Crimson eleven throughout the game. Playing defensively most of the time, the Red Menace put up one brilliant goal line stand after another. But twice were the Cavemen able to throw back the stubborn defense to score.

COACHING STAFF
Rleth, Disler, Kerr, Evans.

GOSHEN VS. LAPORTE

6                      6

A hard fought game all the way with neither team at a decided advantage. Floyd Koch, senior quarterback gained state-wide recognition when he received a Slicer punt, ran behind his own goal line, and galloped 102 yards to score. At no other time did the Crimson threaten.

GOSHEN VS. GARRETT

40                      14

Coach Kerr called out his reserves to bear the brunt of the attack as his Red Menace easily defeated the Garrett Railroaders. Walt Foxx's 72-yard broken field run early in the first quarter, featured the game. Garrett scored twice late in the fourth quarter.

GOSHEN VS. ELKHART

0                      33

It was definitely an Elkhart night when Goshen took their annual bid at the traditional foe before a capacity crowd. The Blazers found a stubborn defense thrown at them throughout the first half, but started the second half with reserved strength. The Crimson eleven could not muster enough strength to seriously threaten the score.

GOSHEN VS. HUNTINGTON

15                      13

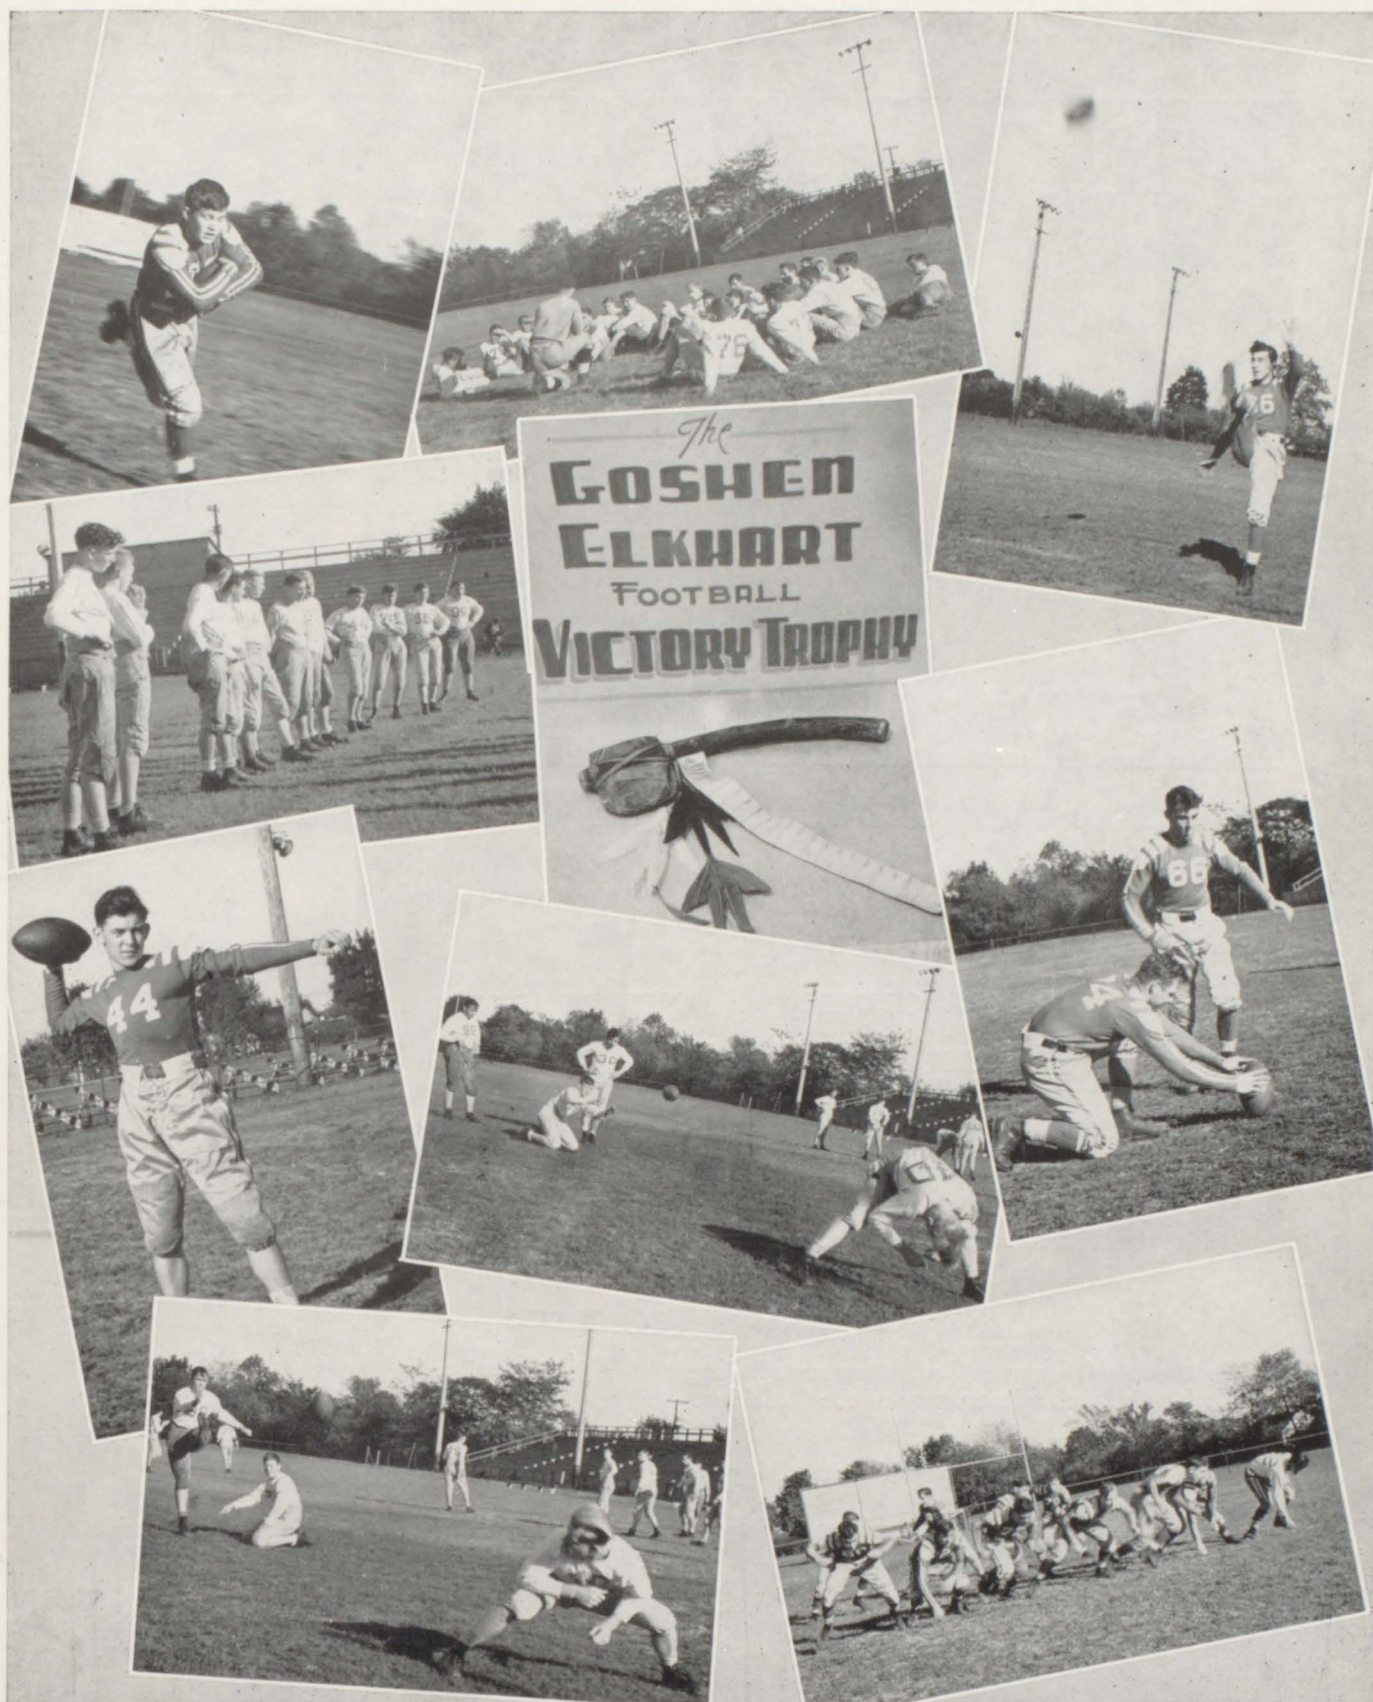

The Red Menace traveled to Huntington to meet a strong Viking eleven. The game was closely contested and furiously fought. A safety in the third quarter resulted in the winning margin. Goshen intercepted a Viking pass late in the game to stave off a desperate attempt to score.

GOSHEN VS. NORTH SIDE (F. W.)

13                      13

Probably the roughest game any member of the team ever played in resulted in the second deadlock of the year. Blocking and tackling was at their peak. The Red Menace led most of the game, but the Redskins of North Side managed to tie it up late in the game. Twelve seniors ended their prep gridiron careers in the best-played game of the year.

GOSHEN 20      NEW PARIS 21

In the opener with the veteran New Paris Cubs, Goshen bowed after leading most of the way. Reynolds scored the winning basket just as the game ended.

GOSHEN 35      WARSAW 37

The Redskins bowed to another veteran team, the Warsaw Tigers. They made as many baskets as the Tigers, but did not have the accuracy from the free throw line.

GOSHEN 45      CONCORD 22

In a one-sided game, Goshen swamped Concord for the first win of the season. The Minute-men lacked height and accuracy of the Redskins.

GOSHEN 31      JOHN ADAMS (S. B.) 26

Goshen captured their first conference victory by beating John Adams 31-26. A scoreless fourth quarter almost proved fatal to the Redskins.

The Crimson 1942

GOSHEN 28      MISHAWAKA 25

The Redskins won over the mighty Cavemen for their second conference win in as many starts. Goshen's fourth quarter rally proved beneficial.

GOSHEN 27      NAPPANEE 24

Goshen barely beat the Nappanee Bulldogs after going scoreless in the fourth quarter again. This made their fourth straight victory, after losing the first two.

GOSHEN 18      NORTH SIDE 25

Goshen tasted its third defeat as they were able to make only six baskets out of sixty-two attempts. This is the coldest a Goshen team has been in a long time.

GOSHEN 33      ELKHART 31

In a thrilling game, the Redskins rallied in the fourth quarter to hand Elkhart their first defeat in seven starts. Whitmer was high for Goshen with 16 points.

GOSHEN 36      MICHIGAN CITY 34

Goshen nosed out a stubborn Michigan City team to make it three wins and one loss in conference play. Whitmer and Wortinger led the Redskins with 10 points apiece.

GOSHEN 15      LAPORTE 17

Goshen suffered a setback in the conference as they lost to the LaPorte Slicers. Myers, Detwiler, and Miller each made two baskets for Goshen.

GOSHEN 28      CENTRAL (S. B.) 35

Goshen kept pace with the favored Central Bears only to lose out in the final period. Parson Howell led the winners with 13 points and Whitmer the losers with 9.

GOSHEN 37      MIDDLEBURY 23

The Redskins scalped the Middlebury Midshipmen in the new Middlebury gym. Wortinger and Koch paced Goshen with 11 and 9 points respectively, while Ulrich, Middlebury star forward, was held to 6.

GOSHEN 23      NAPPANEE 22

Goshen gained a third place tie in the eastern division conference by defeating Nappanee for the second time this year. Whitmer and Myers shared scoring honors with nine points apiece.

GOSHEN 23      RILEY (S. B.) 28

A scoreless third quarter proved fatal as the Redskins were downed 23 to 27 by the Riley Wildcats. Whitmer got eight points to lead Goshen.

GOSHEN 29      ANGOLA 25

Goshen again started on the winning track by beating the Angola Hornets. This was the ninth victory of the season. Whitmer led the Redskins with 9 points.

GOSHEN 28      WASHINGTON (S. B.) 21

Goshen looked good in downing the Washington Panthers 28-21. Wortinger and Koch led the Redskins with seven and six points respectively. Goliochowski made eight for the losers.

GOSHEN 36      ELKHART 26

Goshen again whipped the Elkhart Blue Blazers and proved Friday the 13th to be no jinx to them. This finished Goshen's conference schedule with six wins and four defeats, to place in a tie for fourth.

GOSHEN 37      STURGIS 29

Goshen ended the season by defeating one of southern Michigan's strongest teams, the Sturgis Trojans. Whitmer and Detwiler led the Redskins with 10 and 8 points respectively.

ELKHART COUNTY SECTIONAL

Goshen won the sectional by defeating Elkhart for the third time, Wakarusa in an overtime, and Nappanee for the third time. The Redskins disposed of Elkhart 28 to 27, then eliminated Wakarusa 41-38, and in the finals conquered Nappanee for the right to represent Elkhart county in the regional at South Bend.

They defeated Culver in their first game at the regional 28-29, but lost in the finals to the Strong Central Bears 38-31. This is the first time a Goshen team has done this well in the tournament since 1936.

KEITH WORTINGER.

TENNIS

Bowser, Sheffer, Culp, Moyer, Blough, McCally.

The 1941 tennis team created an innovation by regaining their winning stride. Coach Schenck called the team together and began practice early in August. Because of the poor courts, practices were somewhat curtailed, but by mid-September the boys had reached their season's form.

Stanley Moyer and Bob Blough, seniors, were the mainstays in the singles department, while Phil Bowser, Maurice McCally, Bill Sheffer, and Dave Culp, juniors, were winning most of their doubles. Although the season's record* was seven losses to one win, all the matches were close and hard fought. Proof of this lies in the fact that they won forty per cent of their games.

Blough, Bowser, Culp, Moyer, and Sheffer qualified for letters.

Scoring is figured by one point for first, two points for second, three points for third, and so on. The first five men finishing for each school count in the standing. John Rarick, Tom Kintigh, Richard Fleck, Dallas Rohrer, Clifford Schrock, and Bill Shannahan made up the cross country team this year.

TRACK

Coach Lorin "Snow" Evans, after a successful basketball season, turned his attention to track. Several pleasant discoveries of ability were made in the annual freshman-sophomore meet in which several new records were established. The weather has been conducive to outside activity, thus creating a great deal of enthusiasm.

Bill Shannahan and Bob Roose compete in the 100 yard dash, and also in the 220 yard dash, along with Russell Rowe, while Dal Rohrer and Loyal Culp indulge in the 440. Dick Fleck is the mainstay in the half mile, with John Rarick and Tom Kintigh circling the oval four times in the mile. The weight department consists of Ted Ogle, Floyd Koch, and Bob Rumsey, the latter having set a new underclassman record in the recent meet. Don Whitmer and Koch share honors in the high jump. Gerald Shank joins this duo to take care of the broad jump. Dick Evans, Floyd Wortinger, Jack Whitmer, and John Shannahan are strong contenders in the pole vault. Koch and Walt Miller team together in the high hurdles, with Shank, Bill Lehman, and Beets Sheline clearing the lows. The mile relay team is composed of Rohrer, Kintigh, Fleck, and Rarick. The half-mile relay has, alternating, Roose, Sheline, Rowe, B. Shannahan, Stormy Pfohl, and Lehman.

The Red Ramblers' schedule follows:

April 8—Here—Warsaw.
April 14—There—South Side.
April 15—Here—Freshman-Sophomore.
April 17—Here—Elkhart.
April 21—Here—Riley.

The Girls' Athletic Association gets larger every year. This year 32 girls were initiated into the club, making a total of 102 girls.

During the year the girls participated in Play Day at Elkhart. They took the basketball honors, winning three games out of four.

Every Thursday noon and Tuesday after school the girls had use of the gym. A tourney was held between the period gym classes. The third period class was victorious. Later in the year an interclass tourney was held.

To make money for sweaters, letters, and monograms the girls sold Redskin emblems, pins, and had charge of the concessions at the Goshen-Sturgis game.

At the close of the year the annual senior banquet was held, and at this time the awards were presented to girls having the required number of points.

"IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY——?"

They walked hand in hand through the cool green forest, and the tender breezes caressed their bronzed faces. The deep silence was broken only now and then by the shrill call of some bird overhead or the low, guttural croak of a waking frog. The ethereal stillness was sublime.

The sky was a cheerful blue—rather, an exultant red—no, a glorious, fiery orange, tapering into shades of pink and delicate yellows. The birth of a new day was at hand, and they alone were present to welcome the morning. With a song on their lips and eager joy in their hearts, they walked on, filled with a new zest for living. The warm, balmy atmosphere was pleasing to them; and their souls filled with ecstasy as the melodious sound of a babbling stream fell on their ears.

This was going to be a swell day for fishing.

FRAGMENTS

The ship, breasting a wave of blue,
Its prow flinging tinselled bits of spray,
As I watched, became a cloud,
Sailing into the golden mist of day.

* * * *

A cloud of violets, like a fairy's cloak
Left lying on the grass,
Peeped shyly into a crystal pool,
The Spring-time's looking glass.

* * * *

A spike
Of icy, splintered light
Glanced from a frozen star,
Stabbing the velvet night.

* * * *

Rainy days aren't the same any more,
Falling rain whispers the name I adore,
Softly the wind, as it sighs in a tree,
Caresses my cheek, making mem'ries for me.

* * * *

Friendship is a golden chain,
So easy to break, and yet so strong,
    Binding two hearts together.
Love is a shining lock of gold,
And always the key is lost, and so
    It steals the chain forever.

HERE AND THERE

Sink it, Mutt; atta-boy, Keith; dribble down, take a shot; Evans, Evans, he's our man; memories; make that basket, Charlie; golf gang; caught in the act; guess who; Wow! that hat; hail, hail, the gang's all here.

AMERICA, MY COUNTRY

America, my country.
The words beat soft within me—
Soft as a moccasined footstep pressing light against the sod,
Soft as the beat of eagle wings soaring close to God.

Oh! Lord God, who gave me life
Take it: I give it back to Thee.
Use it as you will, and know
I give it willingly.
Only know that though the strife
Of fear and hate and greed is rife,
AMERICA MUST BE FREE!

America, my country,
If I could but protect thee—
Protect thee against the specter stalking rampant through the land—
Stalking with hooded head and menacing upraised hand.

There seems so little to be done
By puny, helpless man,
Except while the race of his life is run
To do the best he can,
And put his trust in Thee
TO KEEP HIS COUNTRY FREE.

SALUTATORIAN'S ADDRESS

We, the Graduating Class of '42, extend to you our sincerest greetings.

Graduation! Several years ago to us it was little more than a distant goal in the process of education—a goal to be striven for and, if possible, attained. And now, after four years of hard work on the part of ourselves, our instructors, and our parents and friends, it has at last been realized. No obstacles in the path to achievement were too great. We met them all with the same determination and fighting spirit that is typical of Goshen High School students.

While the rest of the world was torn by destruction and desolation we—with your help and understanding—have been building ourselves in mind and body to meet the problems of everyday life and to bring about universal peace and security.

We thank you all for your part in making this day possible for us and extend to you our most cordial welcome to these Class Day exercises.

GERALD SHANK.

CLASS POEM 1942

We who are young have learned so many things.
We know the terrors that the night sky brings,
That birds of prey are borne on metal wings.
We know, far better than the sound of peace,
The cries of agony that never cease,
The rhythm of the guns that sobs and sings.

Yes, we have watched with wonder-laden eyes,
The old familiar well-loved things of life
Buried beneath a pyramid of lies—
Trampled and broken on the fields of strife.

Oh! God, this world so soon to be our own
Needs help. It must be taught. It must be shown.
Merciful One, you rolled away the stone
And led the Prince of Peace into the light.
Now lead us safely through this endless night;
Help us, strengthen us, we are so alone;

The task which has been set so very great.
To those who are to follow we must show
A better world, devoid of fear and hate,
That they need never learn the things we know.

JO ANN WESTERVELT.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Fellow Graduates and Friends:

Today we, the Class of 1942, pass a milestone in our lives. For the past four years we have striven onward toward the goal we achieve today. It is our firm conviction that in these years we have gained the knowledge and experience that will equip us to face whatever the world has to offer. We take this opportunity to thank those who have so generously contributed in our venture.

Today we stand on a new and higher peak. As we raise our vision and ponder into the distance, we see an expanse of paths we may follow. Many ultimately lead to the zenith of all heights, Success. It is our immediate problem to choose which of these paths to follow. May the journey be pleasant and, above all, successful for each one.

Doubtless the widest and most certain path is the one along which we offer our services to our beloved country. As we review the present crisis, we find more difficulties to deal with. Decisions must be made. Upon these decisions lie the very destiny of our existence. We must immediately decide that our lot is to aid this country of which we are so justly proud. We must face the dangers of war to insure the blessings of peace.

Strength and virtue are imperative at a time such as this; they are characteristics of this class. It is ready to take its place in this gigantic undertaking. It is eager to contribute its share—and more. This country has given us our education; it is our privilege to help this country at a time when help is needed most. This war must be won and it shall be won. Some students have already left our midst to make their contribution. To them we pay tribute. They were willing and proud to offer themselves.

When this war is won and life restored to a troubled world, may the Class of 1942 of Goshen High School be remembered in the annals of history as having contributed to a glorious victory and a lasting peace on earth.

GEORGE STEALY.

CLASS ORATION

Friends:

Over the radio, through the newspaper, and by the motion picture, we are constantly being reminded that, "America, now more than ever, needs to be alert—to be alive."

America, now more than ever, needs to think. We have never before in the history of our country faced such an emergency as we face today. The effects of this war are far more devastating than any other war in the history of mankind. More countries and people are involved, more money and resources are being spent. Each nation is straining to the utmost in a gigantic endeavor to outproduce the other nations. What will be the result of such a struggle? Only chaos. A crisis like this certainly demands thinking on the part of everyone. Today America need clear, unemotionalized, sane thinking.

In their studies of history, English, science, or math, the members of the class of '42 have learned to think. They have perhaps learned more than just facts; they have learned how to analyze—how to take things as they are and think them through. Now this thinking will be given its first practical test.

The future that we, the class of '42, face is perhaps graver than that any other class has ever faced. For we not only have the task at hand with which to deal, but also the problem of rebuilding after this present conflict is over. Such a rebuilding certainly calls for sane thinking—thinking that will produce a better, safer world in which to live.

JOHN OYER.

JUNIOR ADVICE

Juniors, etc., and Freshmen who care to listen: :

Since I have been in this institution for four long, tiresome years and am now leaving, I shall try to pound some sound (?) advice into the thick skulls of you "know it all" juniors.

Now, why study all night long wearing out encyclopedias and using a lot of electricity, just preparing for tomorrow's lessons? You'll only be rewarded with a grade, and what's a grade compared to some fancy rug cuttin', holdin' hands in a movie, or gazin' at the silvery moon while driving at the reckless rate, of say, ten miles an hour!

Speaking of grades, why not change all minus grades to pluses on your report card? No one will ever notice the difference—(maybe!) While making these changes you might just as well sign the thing to save your parents the time and trouble. Anyway, Ellen will probably appreciate the change of penmanship.

Another thing, there ought to be more "cut ups" in study halls like Sheffer and Shanny and Garman to entertain the teachers. I suggest these boys give lessons this summer on "how to cut up and still get good grades." Only I'm not sayin' what kind of grades these little boys get! Eek!

Teachers often judge a person by his etiquette, so here are some of the outstanding actions to practice if you want an excellent citizenship record. Exercise your tonsils by talking to your neighbor in classes, run in the halls, shoot paper wads, write notes, whistle popular songs; oh, I could go on and name a dozen more examples, but I think you now have the general idea of high school etiquette.

So many of the underclassmen ask me, "How do you get on the good side of a teacher!" Well, kids, I'll tell you.

Given 'em your "Ipana smile," and always be at their beck and call. That's all there is to it! Oh, yes, they do appreciate a compliment now and then; I know that's how I got my grades. Now that my secret's told—am I glad I'm graduating!

Before I paste this article in our class scrapbook, I have just one more point to stress:

"Juniors, if you do these things,
I'm sure that you will find
Identical marks on your report card,
As I found on the back of mine!"

PHYLLIS ZENTZ.

CLASS HISTORY

The History of the Class of '42 is a scrapbook of memories. Let's turn back the pages to September, 1938, when we find 189 very frightened freshmen roaming the halls of Goshen High School in search of their classes. It was a huge place with three floors and sixty-four rooms. While we spent our first semester adjusting ourselves to U's, fifty-five minute periods, study halls and mobs in the corridors, the powers that be decided on our male sponsor, Mr. Shanklin. It was a red letter day in the lives of the freshies rattling around loose in the big building when they were banded together to become a unit working together as the Class of '42. It was Miss Beaman who was chosen to add the feminine touch to our sponsorship. Then came the constitution and our very first officers. George Stealy held the reins; Don Whitmer was the back-seat driver. Peggy Amos signed her name to our notes while Evelyn Naylor saved our pennies. Charles Keil and Floyd Koch were the armed officers.

We quietly slipped into clubs and paid our dues at once—freshmen have that nice habit. And we had our pictures taken for the Crimson. The attendance at football and basketball games was boosted considerably by the girls, but the boys preferred to crowd the players' bench.

The year ended and we had earned our vacation.

But let's go on to our second year—sophomores they called us. By now we knew our way around. No longer did we suffer the jibes from upperclass speakers in this auditorium. We were protected by our hiding place under the balcony.

A new year called for new officers. Stanley Moyer came to the front as president, with Jimmy Tom as his aide. George Stealy became secretary; Louise Hartzler, treasurer. John Stack and Ted Ogle guarded the door. Our first activity on the social side was a party in the cafeteria for studies this year were harder, and we were kept busy preparing for the rush and confusion of the coming year.

We plunged into our third year of high school. We were upperclassmen. We dug in our heels and went to work. Our officers were: President, Don Whitmer, and his partner, Peggy Amos. (Confidentially, they must have liked the idea—they're still partners.) Glendora Burke was secretary; Phyllis Zentz, treasurer. Walter Foxx and Charles Keil kept order.

Members of the Class of '42 weren't a bit bothered by stage fright the night "Going Places," our junior play production, had its debut. Glendora Burke, Don Cole, William Penrose, Phyllis Zentz, Doris Bryner, Ruth Mullarky, Wayne Cary, William Hippensteel, Betty Miller, Ruth Fidler, and Bonnie Wilson proved themselves born to the footlights and grease paint. In fact, the grease paint fitted them so well it took a week to get it off.

After this success, which had taken cooperation and work from the entire class, there was a period of relaxation during which there was a senior-junior and a junior-senior party. Then came the occasion—the prom.

We chose for our theme "In Old Mexico" and carried it out to the tiniest detail. The prom was a success, typical of Goshen High's proms. By eleven the faculty was left alone in the Masonic Temple listening to the orchestra and chatting while the juniors and seniors dashed off to Waco, Avalon, Chicago, and Fort Wayne. Our gesture of farewell to last year's seniors was to usher at their graduation. It was then we realized "next year it will be us."

As we near the end of our scrapbook we find 115 seniors entering their last year of high school. Our four-year-old freshmen piled the load of leadership on the capable shoulders of president, George Stealy; vice president, Don Whitmer, secretary, Peggy Amos; treasurer, Phyllis Sailor; sergeants-at-arms, Maurice Nisley and Floyd Koch.

We turn another page in our scrapbook and come upon a treasured collection of name cards. There was a general statement going around this place. At unexpected moments you would hear a shriek, "Aren't they horrible?" Nothing to be frightened about—just some senior girl referring to her senior pictures.

Following the custom of Goshen High School we have our immortal senior play, "The Very Light Brigade." It was up to the minute; in fact, it was two jumps ahead of the crowd on ideas of home defense. Bonnie Wilson, George Stealy, Betty Miller, Stanley Moyer, Elizabeth Hersherberger, Roberta Madlem, and Mary Katherine Stuck did themselves proud and turned in a winner.

When war was declared on December 8, the senior class stopped to consider, "What is ahead for us." One of our class decided and our loss was the United States Navy's gain. Earl Miller is in the fight. Many of the boys are finishing high school before joining up, and some of the girls will go into nurses training.

Scholastic ability is generously distributed throughout the entire class, but there are leaders in every field. Stanley Moyer, Elizabeth Hersherberger, Leona Trump, John Oyer, Gerald Shank, and Phyllis Sailor hoisted their averages highest.

It is the same in music; a great number of our musicians place in first or second division at contests, either in group or solo selections.

Sports rate ace high with the boys of the class. In football we have Captain Maurice Nisley, Don Whitmer, George Stealy, Floyd Koch, Junior Meyers, Lawrence Claybaugh, Ted Ogle, Jim Tom, Walter Foxx, John Stack, and Charles Keil. We don't hear much about tennis, but Stanley Moyer and Robert Blough are pretty good.

In track we find John Rarick, Richard Fleck, Walter Foxx, Floyd Koch, Ted Ogle, Gerald Shank, and Don Whitmer.

Of course, we have red and white ribbons marking the page in this scrapbook on which the picture of our Sectional Championship team appears. There's Floyd Koch, Don Whitmer, Keith Wortinger, Junior Meyers, and Lawrence Claybaugh.

The weeks flew by, busy with announcements, caps and gowns, studies, parties, the prom—we were only guests this year—'til now the scrapbook is nearly full. Tonight it will be finished. Tonight the group that entered Goshen High School four years ago as a class, leaves one by one, as individuals, each carrying with him his own scrapbook of memories.

ADELAIDE EVERETT.

CLASS GRUMBLE

Greetings and salutations, friends, parents, class-mates, faculty; (and freshmen):

I have come here today to tell you a few things about Goshen High School, (that is—all the faculty will allow me to tell). As you can see, if you're not already asleep, we're having another Class Day program. It's always done that way, you know, a big program is thrown, (I hope it doesn't hit you) to sort of ease the pain. Then everything is over all at once, just when one had begun to get used to it all, after 12 or 13 years (and sometimes more) at this laborious occupation. (Laborious means not only hard work but boring as well, as the word may indicate).

At last, we now get a chance to tell our faculty what we've been thinking for the past four years. I hope that this grumble doesn't have to be changed too much now that I finally have the chance.

Speaking of changes, our class has seen quite a few—of the wrong kind. Our most noticeable change was that of home room. We were caught off our guard. We now have this period in the middle of the morning instead of the first. I guess the faculty wanted to stop our extra half hour sleeping time at the first of the day. Odd, isn't it? Or aren't they sleepy, too?

Some changes were also made in the faculty. Miss Galentine's classes are now instructed by the young and able teacher, "Mr." Blanding. Quite a change from Miss Galentine.

Miss Smith couldn't stand the "kids" any more, I guess, so she left us and went home; now Mr. Stech is teaching her classes—but we miss the Smith "technique." We're not disappointed; however, for now Goshen High School has more moving pictures. We got a new coach, too, Mr. Kerr; but we lost him to Washington University in St. Louis; so now we have another, Mr. Don (Toby) Yoder. I don't think we would have won any games this year without this year's squad, anyway, do you? Here's a chance for an argument.

We got two new French teachers during the past four years, the latter being the more to our liking. We all know Miss Dillin!

The other change of teachers is quite favorable from the standpoint of the fellows. Last year the girls had the upper hand in the chemistry class, but this year we have a lady instructor. Get the point?

All the faculties are alike, I guess. They do everything they can to get in the way of the students. For instance, one of the new instructors is also the play director. He is not what one would call typical; but he is—or-a-well—for his sake we had better term it as "unique." The characteristics are the same, however, such as the usual hair-tearing, the well-known exclamation (E-gad!), and the usual enforcement of night practices. In spite of all this, the production is usually quite acceptable, and quite good, although it is done by "ham"atures.

We feel that some things should be changed around the school, because of the war effort. The government is howling for business as usual, yet we can't even make changes here. We could at least make explosives in the chemistry lab, but I guess the faculty is afraid we would use them if we ever got the chance. (We would, too.)

Here is something that really gripes us seniors. We work hard (?) (opinions differ—here at this point), for the first few years so we can coast through the end of the senior year, and what happens? A bunch of little "freshies," who know how to handle the teachers, come out and pull down so many A's that we have to work doubly hard to keep up our reputations. That is a situation. Very unusual.

For years, movie companies have tried to convince the school to use their products for education. Now, finally, just as we are graduating, the school sees the light, (so to speak) and the film, too, for now we have both.

Even Mother Nature has mistreated us this year. As long as we have asked for a new gym, it is too bad our novel weather, the tornado, had to pass just one block away. However, we couldn't use it now, so I guess the other classes will have to keep on asking for a larger gymnasium.

Among the other things I still have not mentioned, are "cases"—"freshman" girls and "senior" boys; poor store service; no escalators; Ellen's skeptical looks when excuses are presented; and many others. Since time and space will not permit, I suppose we shall have to let other classes tell you what they think of good old G. H. S.

Thank you,

BILL PENROSE.

CLASS PROPHECY

It was in the late spring of 1952 that I was invited by State Patrolman Don Whitmer and his wife, the former Peggy Amos, to spend a few days with them in their home in the old home town of Goshen. After stepping off the train at the New York Central station I was met by the stationmaster, Henry Blosser. I called a taxi and settled down in a seat only to be interrupted by Ruth Fidler Frankowitz Starnworth, who was about to board a train for Reno. After a hectic ride of several blocks in the taxi, I soon recognized the driver and the driving—none other than Bill Hippensteel. From him I learned that Frank Dutkus was operating Hotel Goshen. I stopped in at the hotel, surprised to see Lillian Duzy, Frank's secretary. Bellboys Robert Huff and Charles Ogle greeted me cordially. I thought to myself that if the Class of '42 graduates were still in town in numbers like this I might do well to do a little investigating. Across the street in the courthouse I found Coroner James Tom, Farm Agent Jay Kime, and the tax assessor, Bill Waffle. In the city hall was Mayor Ted Ogle, with his secretary, Dorothy, listening to a radio program by the famous concert soprano, Pat Risdon. The Salem Bank and Trust Company was managed by George Stealy, president, and Bonnie Wilson, Richard Fleck, and Maxine Burkett, cashiers. George asked me if I wouldn't do him a favor by voting for the presidential candidate on the Socialist ticket, Don Cole. Assuring him that I would, I moved across Main street to the store of Phyllis Zentz, designer of modernistic clothes for men. I was met at the door by the blushing Keith Wortinger. Passing by Snook's Pharmacy I entered Goshen's newest theater, operated by John Stack, manager, popcorn and peanut girl, Roberta Madlem, and ushers, Russel Wortinger, Coe Kramer, George Hoover, Stanley Yoder, and Russel Berkey, and Bob Logan, projector operator greeted me. As Russel showed me to my seat I couldn't help but notice Harry Woods, the great comedian on the screen with his supporting cast, including John Stump, Beth Kosnoff, and Blues Singer Deloris Hull singing one of Rose Rieth's latest song hits. The picture directed by Nancy Latta was photographed by Dick Smoker.

Down the street a short distance was Goshen's leading newspaper, which was edited by Perry Long. Cartoonist Winston St. Germain, Sports Writer Cal Detwiler, Society Editor Betty Lu Atz, and Novelist Elizabeth Hershberger helped to round out his able newspaper staff. I was also glad for my visit to Goshen's new radio station managed by Bill Penrose. The program then in progress, announced by Wayne Cary was Joan Westervelt reading bedtime stories for the kiddies. Leona Trump, staff organist, and Caroline Rimpler, staff pianist, were preparing to give a musical interlude. All the while I was being shown around by two pleasant receptionists, Mildred Wortinger and Alice Anderson. As I stepped out the door of the radio station a little kid who said his name was Junior had shot my hat off with a small bow and arrow. I discovered he was the young son of Wayne Yoder and his wife, who was the former Ruth Mullarkey. As I entered the dime store, Manager Russell Campbell told me there were several graduates of the Class of '42 working for him. These included Mary Barron, Vivian Carpenter, Lavonne Inbody, and Rosemary Phillips. The former Glendora Burke was still working there, part time. As I entered the office of Dr. Robert Blough, I noticed Betty Miller quietly waiting. It seems that she had an attack of laryngitis and was unable to speak—something new for Betty. I learned from Dr. Blough that Dick Mangum and Oscar Packer, who were drafted into the army after leaving high school were still in the army. Stuck's Beauty Parlor, whose operators were Lucy Swihart and Emma Mae Myers, was owned by Mary Katherine Stuck. I passed by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Minard. She had been the former Phyllis Sailor. I found that they had been married for ten years and had been living very very happily. Next door was Dorothy Ulery, who was just living. Elwood Culp's jewelry store had been running close competition with a similar business operated by Sam Coppes. The downtown lunch room operated by Connie Jackson and Dorothy Zellers was using Junior Meyers as a cook. This was hard for me to believe and made the food hard to swallow. As I entered the Hi-Hat Night Club, Manager Maurice Nisley pointed out to me a swell floor show whose main attraction was Ruth Murray. It was here that I met Eugene Payne and Louis Klopfenstein, who were hardly able to recognize me. It wasn't because I had changed so much in ten years, but because they hadn't. Upon leaving this night club I ran into Adelaide Everett, who said she was out looking for her husband, and then I encountered a group of girls, Betty Barringer, Jo Ann Emmitt, and Mary Lung, who said they were just out looking around.

Going out to the high school whom should I meet but Supt. of Schools Stanley Moyer speaking to football and basketball coaches, Floyd Koch and Larry Claybaugh. Still sweeping the floors was Janitor Bob Davis. Frances Beckner, English teacher; Jean Shive, history teacher, and Doris Miller, instructor in French, were part of the personnel. As I left the High School one billboard after another designed by Commercial Artist Jean Treece, met my eye. So did the faces of Doris Bryner and Viola Rassi, who were the pretty girls drinking cokes and reclining on mattresses. Out in the front yard of her home, beating comforters for her spring cleaning was the former Evelyn Naylor. Down the road on a fence post, resting from his plowing, John Rarick was sitting, with a bottle of pop. From him I learned that his good friends, Chuck Keil and Walt Foxx were playing pro-football with the Chicago Bears. And, speaking of Chicago, I learned that Louise Hartzler is now playing in the Chicago Philharmonic directed by Eileen Naylor. I arrived at a filling station operated by Junior Frauhiger, where Merle Holderman, milk truck driver, was having 'er filled up. Corinne Marek, the wife of Russian Count Villaroskanoff, with her three maid-servants, Mary Cripe, Junelle Martin, and Joan Detwiler, was strolling through the woods of the summer estate of the Wall Street financier, Gerald Shank. Janet Boggs, Thelma Goetz, and Thelma Kercher, four country maidens, were on their way to a quilting at the home of Donna Koch. Art Huber, a very successful farmer, told me that all good farmers in his vicinity belonged to the Farm Bureau operated by Herb Yoder. On my way back into town, I saw a lonely figure in the middle of the road who was none other than John Oyer. It seems that no one would listen to his ideas so he was just arguing with himself. Just on the edge of the city was Bill Stoner, a telephone line-man, who said he was in an awful mess with all the telephone lines mixed up. I suppose just about as badly as the Class of 1942. All in all, it still wasn't such a bad class after ten years.

DAVE SHANK.

CLASS SONG OF 1942

(Music by Victor Herbert)

To the halls of Goshen High, Goshen High
To the class rooms, teachers, students
Sing a song of farewell for all the happy,
Carefree hours we have spent with you,
We have studied hard for this happy day.
All the world now beckons us, calls our name.
Here's to Goshen High and all it stands for,
Goodbye, Goshen High.

PAT RISDON
PEGGY AMOS

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1942, of Goshen High School, being of sound (?) mind and body, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament in the manner and form as follows:

SECTION I.

ITEM I. To the freshman class we bequeath all of the blue slips and "U's" which we have collected during the last four years.

ITEM II. To the sophomores we leave all items of value which we have forgotten to dispose of in this will.

ITEM III. To the juniors we bequeath our ability to at least look intelligent if and when the occasion demands.

ITEM IV. To the faculty, we give our sincere thanks and appreciation for the help and guidance which they have given us these past four years.

SECTION II.

ITEM I. The graduating athletes leave any athletic equipment which we were unable to get our hand on to the future teams.

ITEM II. Bill Hippensteel will give his slightly used "Model T" to any one who is willing to get up a half hour early each morning and crank it.

ITEM III. All senior girls leave their ability to "bait" for Prom dates to the girls of the junior class.

ITEM IV. The Crimson staff donates a bottle of aspirin to Miss Barnes to ease the many headaches which we have caused her.

ITEM V. "Mutt" Meyers leaves one pair of size 36 football pants to Jimmy Loser and hopes that he will grow into them during the summer.

ITEM VI. Nancy Latta and Ruth Fidler leave their places in the Olympia to Carol Hollinger and Carol Kendall.

ITEM VII. Don Whitmer and Floyd Koch will their athletic abilities to "Stormy" Pfohl and "Bud" Rogers.

ITEM VIII. John Stump leaves his ability to sleep in class to anyone that does not get sufficient sleep on school nights.

ITEM IX. To Mr. Bechtel we donate a new book of jokes to replace the 1902 edition which he now uses.

ITEM X. John Oyer and Stanley Moyer leave their scholastic ability to anyone who wishes to do several hours of homework each night.

ITEM XI. Ted Ogle bequeaths his ability to cut out paper dolls to any junior boy who has a little sister.

ITEM XII. The basketball team leaves its fine record to the underclassmen and hopes that some time in the future, a Goshen team will beat Central.

ITEM XIII. All seniors leave their places to the class of '43, and may their record exceed that which we have made these past four years.

This being the extent of our last will and testament, we, the Class of '42, hereby set our hand and seal on this twenty-eighth day of May in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred forty-two.

Signed,

JIM TOM

VALEDICTORY

Friends,

Graduation for us, the class of forty-two, is an event which means much in our lives: It is both an introduction and a conclusion—an introduction into the complex world lying ahead of us, and a conclusion to our study in the public school system; it is the event which marks for us the last of a long list of activities in which we have participated as a class; it is the realization of a goal toward which we have worked for the past twelve years; it is also the parting of the ways, the point at which we branch out, each to pursue his own ambitions and take his individual place in life.

For four years we have worked together with a common goal in view, graduation: Not, primarily that we might receive a diploma; not that we might be able to say, "I graduated from Goshen High School," but rather that we might adequately prepare ourselves to cope with the complexities of life; that we might reach the goal we have set up for ourselves; that we might make this world a better place in which to live.

With our twelve years of formal schooling now behind us we can truthfully say that our parents, teachers, and administrative officials have faithfully performed their duties. Not only have they aided us in obtaining knowledge from books, but also in building good study habits, a spirit of co-operation, and good traits of character, without which our knowledge would be of little value. Thus they have done their best to help us in building a solid background for life. The responsibility now rests with us.

Parents and friends—as we take our place beside you in life, it shall be with this firm resolve: That we shall do our best to be good citizens, a credit to the community, and to our school. We shall need your continued help and advice in solving the problems that will arise in the trying and uncertain times ahead. The world, as now we enter it is passing through the darkest period of its history, but with confidence in ourselves, confidence in our fellowmen, and, above all, an undying faith in God and the cause of right, we shall labor that we may, in our small way, help to give in more abundance to others the blessings which we so bounteously receive.

And now it is with a feeling of regret that we take our leave of Goshen High School. This life will never exist for us again, but the friendships we have made, the good times we have had together, and the hard places we have passed through will always live in our hearts as a treasure with which we shall never part.

STANLEY MOYER.
